

The background of the main section is a vibrant blue. It features several white silhouettes of people in various dynamic poses, including a person pointing, a person in a handstand, and a person in a crouching pose. The text 'stand up for education' is written in a large, bold, white sans-serif font, with 'stand up' on the top line and 'for education' on the bottom line. The silhouettes are positioned behind and around the text, creating a sense of movement and protest.

stand up for education

Why teachers are striking:

- excessive workload and bureaucracy
- performance related pay
- unfair pension changes

Our campaign for education

- enough good teachers
- enough school places
- proper funding